NEW TYPES—The brass of the National Press Club for 1972 includes a woman for the first time, as Helen Thomas, UPI's White House correspondent, joined her colleagues for this group portrait after their installation Friday. They are, from left, Governor Robert Roth, Philadelphia Bulletin; Governor Kenneth Scheibel, Washington Bureau News; Secretary David Stolberg, Washington Daily News; Board Chairman Sam Fogg, UPI; President Warren Rogers, syndicated columnist; James Weighart, New York Daily News; Vice Board Chairman William McGaffin, Chicago Daily News; Governor Peter Lisagor, Chicago Daily News; Miss Thomas, financial secretary; Vice President George Herman, CBS News, and Treasurer Robert Alden, Washington Post. Governor Bill Greenwood of Mutual News was out of town on assignment. The club will stage an inaugural party Friday night.
